

Something amazing is happening in Portland. Every day, people are finding easy ways to make meaningful, rewarding improvements in the community through Hands On Portland. Volunteers feed the homeless, visit the elderly, build homes, restore our environment, tutor teens, and even care for abandoned pets. Hands On Portland connects 10,000 volunteers a year with opportunities that match their schedules and interests. Volunteers select from one-time, group-based volunteering to longer-term opportunities to opportunities for volunteer leadership. They decide among projects at over 300 different non-profits, schools or government agencies. They volunteer alone, with family and friends or with co-workers. In whatever they choose, HOP volunteers enrich their lives while strengthening our community.

Here is what our Community Partners are saying about HOP:

"As a relatively new user of your postings, I just wanted to let you know we had nearly instant results! I've already been contacted by two volunteers. . . I had no idea how effective a tool Hands on Portland could be." -Darr Durham, 1000 Friends of Oregon

"I was having trouble finding members in the Portland Community to participate in our Program Committees. With the help of the new referral system at Hands on Portland we were able to recruit volunteers to sit on these committees. I look forward to using this system to recruit volunteers for our upcoming construction project. I know it will be very helpful." -Jennifer Twyman, Habitat for Humanity
